

The AXA Research Fund is pleased to announce the results of the selected applications for the 2nd wave of 2009 Ph.D. fellowships.

We thank all the applicants for having participated in this campaign. We have received a very high number of applications and were very impressed by their excellent quality. The selection process for this 2nd wave of Ph.D. fellowships was therefore highly competitive.

If your name is in the published list, the operational contact of your host institution will soon receive a sponsorship agreement.

If your name is not in the published list we regret to inform you that after very careful consideration, it has been decided not to retain your application, despite its high quality. We nonetheless wish you the best for your future research career.

Name	Institution	Title of the Ph.D. project
BARROT Jean-Noël	HEC Paris (France)	Time horizon and investors risk taking in the presence of risk
CHAUVENET Alienor	Institute of Zoology, Zoological Society of London (United Kingdom)	Modeling the dynamics of reintroduced populations
GEIER Florian	Imperial College (United Kingdom)	A metabolic analysis of longevity and ageing in the model organism C. elegans
GERSTENBERG Tobias	University College London (United Kingdom)	Spreading the blame: the allocation of responsibility amongst multiple economic agents
HILAL Muna	Université Victor Segalen Bordeaux 2 (France)	The role of Scrib1 in the formation and maturation of synapses, in synaptic plasticity and psychopathological implications
KEUL Nina	Alfred Wegener Institute for Polar and Marine Research (Germany)	Ultra-structural changes and trace element / isotope partitioning in calcifying organisms (foraminifera, ostracods)
MARCIANO Tal	Ecole Nationale Supérieure de Techniques Avancées (France)	Optical Properties of healthy, ageing and pathological tissue of the anterior segment of the eye
MITUNORI Nomura	Ecole Polytechnique Fédérale de Lausanne (Switzerland)	Bile acid signaling and age-related diseases: role of TGR5 in atherosclerosis
MORIN Maximilian	University of Warwick (United Kingdom)	Which internal and external factors motivate insourcing - Conceptualizing the integrated decision-making process
MULOT Vanessa	Université Paul Cézanne - Aix Marseille III (France)	Marine submersion: new challenges, new legal practices
REZLESCU Constantin	University College London (United Kingdom)	Investigating the influence of perceived face trustworthiness on decision making under uncertainty
TELI Despoina	University of Manchester (United Kingdom)	Influence of the built environment on the microclimatic conditions of urban areas and the contribution of open spaces to the environmental upgrade of cities
TRUEMPLER Kai	London Business School (United Kingdom)	Carry Trades and Monetary Policy
TYE Matthew	University of Oxford (United Kingdom)	Increasing Longevity in Vietnam: Strategies for Long-Term Care - the Intergenerational Contract